Biography

FORMABESTA is a collective of artists formed by Salvador Cidrás, Juan Cidrás and Vicente Blanco that explores the limits of ceramics and textiles from a sculptural perspective.

The ceramics are created from assembled pieces. The smooth surface of the exterior and the enameled and glossy texture of the interior merge to establish new spatial relationships between openings and volumes.

In textiles, they investigate the three-dimensional possibilities of the looms, developing spatial relationships between the texture of the fabric, the wood or the metal of the frame and the plane of the wall.

They live and work in Galicia, Spain.
